Sponsorship Opportunities

The [margins.] Book Festival highlights storytelling from BIPOC, LGBTQIA2S+, neurodiverse and disabled communities through readings, book signings, open mic, multidisciplinary arts performance events, giveaways and more and introduces these authors, artists and creators to the Denver reading public.

Held in the Sante Fe Arts district in collaboration with a variety of partners, the festival will be a city-wide event, free to the public, expected to bring a wide-ranging reading audience from the Denver metro region and beyond, in addition to our national and local conference attendees and speakers.
